A Non-Denominational Talk on the Bible by Madelon Maupin, MTS

Paul is believed to have written seven authenticated letters, although many more in the New Testament are credited to him. This talk focuses on the background of Paul’s seven letters with an in-depth look at his remarkable letter to the Galatians. This is Paul’s richest autobiography, telling in his own words of his conversion, why he claims the title, ‘apostle’, and what the challenges were of this new church community. We will also see how Paul’s insights can address church issues today.

This talk is for those who will find their Bible study enhanced by understanding more of the context in which the author wrote.

Whether a newcomer or a long-time student of the Bible, please join us — and feel free to bring a friend!
